2018 Australasian Open Science Meeting

University of Queensland
School of Psychology
Brisbane, Australia

24 & 25 September 2018

PRELIMINARY PROGRAM

Open to Anyone Interested in Open Science

Join us for two days of workshops, hackathons, unconferences, and presentations about Open Science methods and developments in psychology and related fields. Much of our meeting time will consist of unstructured conversations and workgroups to develop and promote open science practices, particularly in Australia and New Zealand.

We provide the preliminary program here, but it will be continually updated at the conference website: uqopenscience.org

Sunday, September 23rd

Before the meeting starts, come join us for a casual evening meet & greet in South Brisbane.
Location/Time: TBA

Monday, September 24th

The formal program begins at 8:00 am and finishes at 6 pm.

Hackathons/Unconferences include:

- Open-Science in Applied (and Use-Inspired Basic) Research- Jason Lodge (UQ), Sakinah Alhadad (Griffith U), Rachel Searston (U Adelaide)

- What should we teach about classic studies to undergraduates? - Blake McKimmie (UQ)

- Pre-registrations and Undergraduate Research - Michael Philipp (Massey U)

- Avoiding Questionable Measurement Practices (QMPs) - Abbey Nydam (UQ)

- Increasing Diversity in Psychological Research - Liz Jones (Griffith U) + Others

- An Open Science Handbook and Toolkit for Graduate Students - Joel Larwood (UQ)

Monday, September 24th (cont.)

Workshops (so far):

- Using Open Tools, Joel Larwood and Leah Sharman (UQ)

- Assessing Non-Linear Relationships Using Multivariate Pattern Recognition Techniques, Angela Renton (UQ)

*Rapid Research Jam (Adam Bulley, UQ)*—Join us in a new format to promote connections between conference delegates

Conference Dinner (not included in registration), Location TBA

Tuesday, September 25th

The formal program begins at 8:30 am and finishes at 5:30 pm

Talks include:

- An Introduction to IGDORE, The Institute for Globally Distributed Research and Education - Rebecca Willén (IGDORE)

- Blockchain for Open Science, Jon Brock (Macquarie U)

- Post-Publication Openness - Mike Humphreys (UQ)

- Registered Reports - Kristina Horne (UQ)

- Conducting Replications - Taciano Milfont (Victoria U of Wellington

- Dealing with Distributional Assumptions in Pre-Registered Research - Matt Williams (Massey U)

We will conclude with a conference discussion of particular Australasian issues in open science, followed by drinks and nibbles in the Psychology Bldg Courtyard.

Please register by September 10th (and/or volunteer to be a part of the program) at uqopenscience.org